(I) To link courses between Brightspace and Gradescope (very similar to before):
- in Brightspace course homepage, click Content (second tab, upper left corner);
- create a new module (or in any appropriate existing module), click Existing Activities;
- choose External Learning Tools;
- choose Gradescope LTI 1.3;
- once Gradescope LTI 1.3 is downloaded to your Brightspace page, you can click it and follow the prompt to link the Brightspace course to a new (or existing) Gradescope course;
- It will then ask you to link to a new or existing assignment - IGNORE THIS STEP.
- you should sync the Brightspace class roster to Gradescope (in Gradescrope course main page, click Roster and then sync). It seems you need to do this step regularly during the first couple of weeks as students will often add and drop the course.

(II) To link homework between Brightspace and Gradescope courses. Now there is a new application, called Gradescope Assignments - LTI 1.3 which can in fact bypass step (I) above.
- in Brightspace course homepage, click Content (second tab, upper left corner);
- create a new module (or in any appropriate existing module), click Existing Activities;
- Choose and click Gradescope Assignments - LTI 1.3; (no need to go to External Learning Tool first);
- If the Brightspace course is not yet linked to Gradescope, it will ask you to link to a new or existing Gradescope course first;
- If the course is already linked, then Assignment will create an assignment and ask you to link it to a new or existing Gradescope assignment.
- Done. (In Gradesope, you can then manage/modify/maneuver the assignments just like before.)

Some comments:
(1) I think you need to do the above Step (II) for each (new) assignment. The previous method (create assignments separately in Brightspace and Gradescope first and then link them afterward is not available anymore, at least I don't know how to do it).
(2) The assignments created in this way are treated as entries from External Learning Tool. They will not show up in Brightspace assignment list but will show up in Brightspace grade book.
